BİR TUGAN

"Born of the Same Mother"
The Born as One documentary series presents the cultures and daily lives of Turkic communities stretching from Siberia to the Tian Shan Mountains, from the steppes of Turkestan to the Balkans, through a unique lens. Among the roughly 300 million Turkic-related people, many small communities are on the brink of extinction, facing assimilation and systematic pressure. The Born as One documentary series sheds light on all Turkic related communities facing extinction.

Are you ready to rediscover the forgotten or lesser-known elements of Turkic culture and to reconnect with our long-lost kin?

Holistic

An award-winning short documentary series that views holistic health as a balance across life – the unity of body, mind, and spirit. It is a journey toward understanding wellness through the intersection of traditional wisdom and modern science. We tackle eye-opening issues from sugar being eight times more addictive than cocaine, to mushrooms as tools of assassination. From night-fishing Ali Osman to Palestinian Naim under a 3,000-year-old olive tree, from a couple living happily in the mountains for 55 years to youth overcoming depression... Each story is part of our shared human experience. Are you ready to explore the mesmerizing world that lies just before your eyes?

The New World Order

This documentary series aims to explain how not only states and individuals but also money, media, and corporations are at the heart of the global events we experience often acting as the true instigators.We reveal that your hardships and concerns about the future are no coincidence. From economic crises to technological transformations, we investigate global power structures. From The Economist's predictions 30 years ago to the elite's 2030 agendas surprising discoveries await. We uncover hidden links between seemingly unrelated events.This is no mere documentary, it is your guide to re-reading the world. Once you see the truth, there is no going back.

Atlas of Untold Stories

A fictionalized documentary series inspired by real events, using storytelling techniques to captivate its audience. From psychological control mechanisms to terror organizations' infiltration tactics, from assimilation policies targeting 13 million Turks to the silent epidemic of blindness, the series presents real issues through fictional narratives. Without altering the statements of real individuals, it blurs the line between documentary and fiction.By exposing the power manipulators and genocidal regimes gain through mass media, we say: In a world where truth and fiction intertwine, your atlas to follow the trail of truth without getting lost is ready. Are you?

Shadow Games

A short documentary series investigating the hidden links behind global economic and political events. With striking animations and cinematic storytelling, we trace what is really happening in the world. From the traps of debt diplomacy to the role of Islamic civilization in Western rebirth, the journey is full of revelations. We offer multi-layered perspectives using expert analysis, witness testimony, and archival evidence. A deep dive into Turkiye's geopolitical position and its path to regional leadership. Ready to lift the curtain and illuminate the shadows?

THE HEART OF THE BOOK

This documentary series reveals the scientific truths behind everyday events through a sociological lens. From Turkiye's fight against terrorism to the impact of boycotts, from neurobiology to retirement systems, from plastic pollution to schizophrenia, we examine a wide range of topics. We blend scientific depth with cinematic quality in a language everyone can understand. Why do we need supplements? Could we survive without bees? Was Grandma celiac too? A journey that begins with intriguing questions and unfolds with surprising answers. If you are ready to solve mysteries, meet us in the The Heart of the Book because sometimes the most important answers are hidden right in the middle.

LOOK CLOSE

A social investigation series that bridges historical events with the present. Many crimes throughout history have occurred hidden from humanity and we often know very little about them. From corporate monopolies to supply chain ethics, historical genocides to modern slavery, we uncover complex global patterns. Reports from the WHO and the Food and Agriculture Organization provide the scientific foundation of our series. Are we consuming poison instead of sugar? Why is thorium, the treasure, not utilized? From your food to your phone, you will start seeing the same fingerprints everywhere This series brings to light the facts that have remained unnoticed for too long. Look closely, because nothing is as it seems.

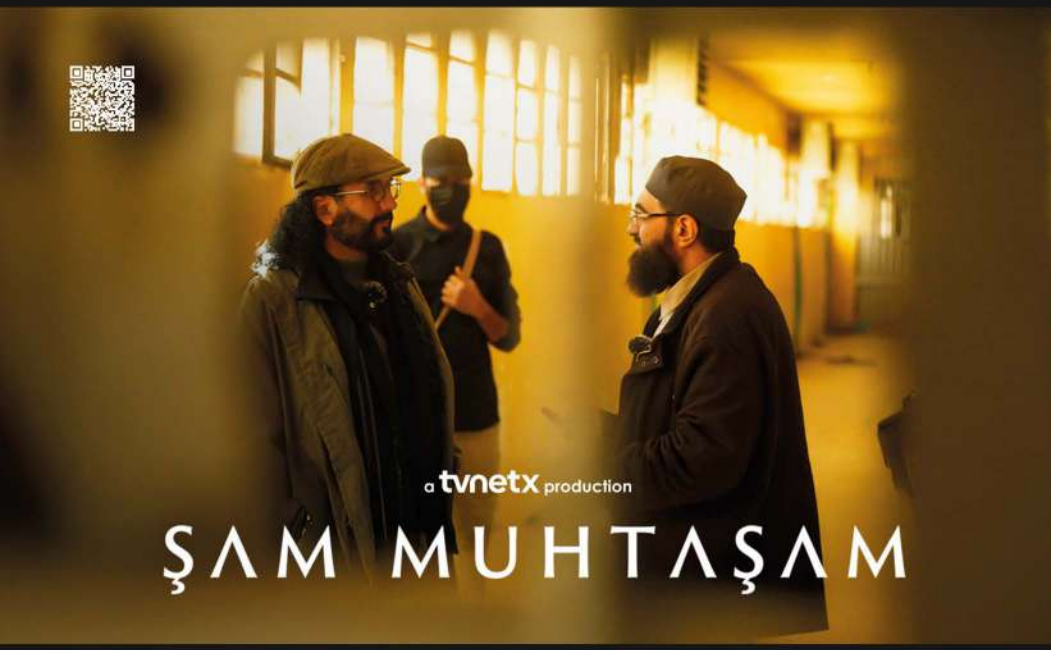

TWENDE

"Let's Go!"
When Africa is mentioned, the same images come to mind: hunger, drought, poverty. Unfortunately, that is how the continent has been portrayed for centuries. While acknowledging these issues, this series aims to show that Africa is more than that. We believe we, too, can draw inspiration from Africa's cultural richness. And we do so through cuisine through shared flavors. We say to you, "Twende", let's go!

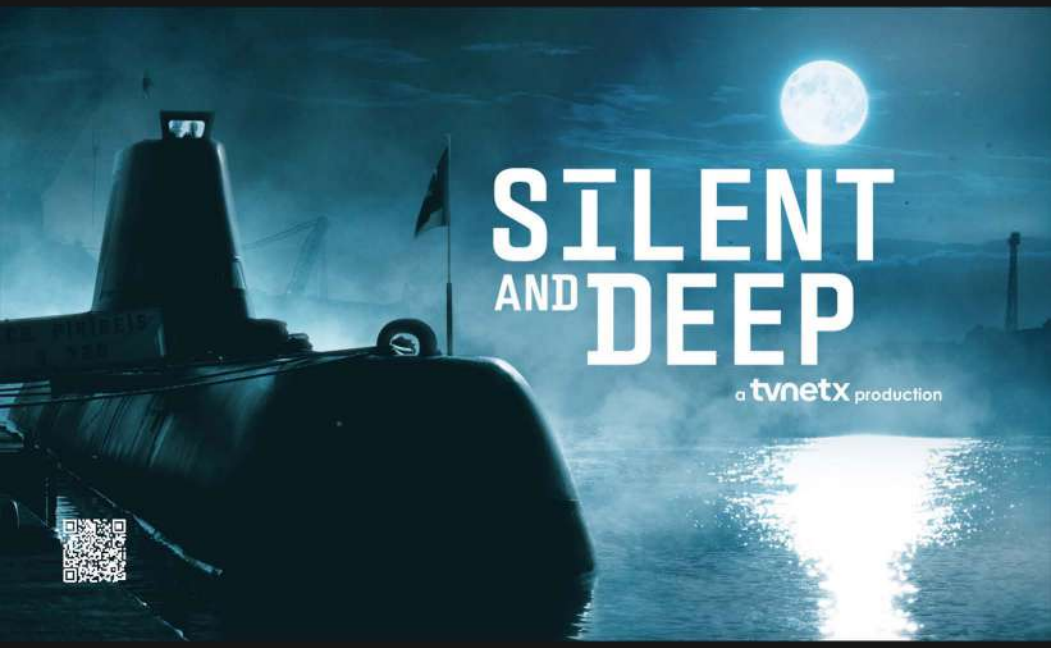

FOR BEGINNERS

For Beginners is a comprehensive and educational short documentary series covering a broad spectrum of topics. From political communication and energy policies to comparative government systems, we draw on insights from a wide range of experts: the Founding President of the Turkish Space Agency, NASA engineers, Harvard and Columbia academics, and defense industry specialists. Their expertise helps guide our exploration of critical issues from the Cambridge Analytica scandal to Nigeria's oil disaster, from how Maslow's hierarchy is used by terrorist organizations to Turkiye's journey into space. From signals from space to Hamas' drone revolution. From the climate crisis to vaccine wars. We make complex subjects understandable without compromising on scientific accuracy. Rather than a didactic tone, we adopt a spirit of discovery because this series is designed for beginners.

ŞAM MUHTAŞAM

A historical field research documentary series that captures the unexpected victories of the Syrian Revolution and the collapse of the Assad regime, all recorded on site. From peaceful protests to civil war, from Iranian and Russian occupation to the dictator's escape, the full timeline is explored. We bring together the stories of those tested by bombs and torture, and of those tested by longing and poverty in exile. We uncover how the Syrian people embraced the revolution, what echoed through the streets and squares, and what Damascus is saying today under the heavy shadow of history. Through the voices of intellectuals imprisoned in Sednaya, war correspondents, field commanders, and everyday people, we draw a multifaceted portrait of the revolution.

SILENT AND DEEP

A gripping documentary series offering a window into the depths of Turkiye's "Blue Homeland" and the groundbreaking achievements of its defense industry. From the construction of the TCG Piri Reis submarine to crew training, sonar tech to sea mines, we bring every hidden detail to the surface. What is it like to live 50 days underwater? How do the guardians of the homeland breathe? Through powerful footage and interviews with real crew members, this series reveals not just Turkiye's journey to technological independence, but also the strength of patriotism and humanity that drives it. There is power in silence, pride in depth.

SEAGNAL The OCEAN'S LAST CALL

Of course, here is the text from the image:

Since 2019, Bedono village in Semarang, Indonesia, began to submerge due to the rising sea levels. Lusipan, who was born and raised in this village, witnessed his farmlands getting completely flooded, turning him from a farmer into a fisherman.

Recently, he had to bury his wife who passed away. Due to the village cemetery being almost entirely submerged, he couldn't bury her next to his parents, whose graves are now underwater. Standing in front of his parents' submerged graves, Lusipan reflects on his departed wife.

Determined never to leave this place, he prays every day, hoping that no more of his land will be lost to the rising waters...
